

Houston's Catholic Home Education Conference

HOME EDUCATION: A TIMELESS APPROACH

Join us for an Interactive Day of Discovery and Inspiration

February 3, 2024
Jerabeck Center, UST

If you are a Catholic homeschooler or are interested in becoming one, we invite you to a day of formation, organized by the Catholic Home Educators Collective Houston (CHECH).

“Home Education: A Timeless Approach” will be a day packed with opportunities to interact with fellow home educators and listen to our speakers in talks on topics like defining the essence of Catholic homeschooling, living liturgically, engaging teenagers, creating a good routine, and navigating testing and transcripts. There will also be local vendors providing information about their goods and services.

Our Keynote Speaker is Mrs. Kimberly Hahn, a seasoned home educator with more than two decades of experience, and author of several books including Legacy of Love: Biblical Wisdom For Parenting Teens and Young Adults, and co-author of Catholic Education: Homeward Bound.

Mrs. Hahn is also the creator of the podcast Beloved and Blessed, where she speaks to women in all walks of life through Scriptural wisdom (<https://stpaulcenter.com/audio-video/beloved-and-blessed/>).

We will also welcome Jenny Bales, a home educator who is also an enthusiastic consultant, sharing her experience and resources on the website Heart of Mother (<https://www.heartofamother.net/>). Other speakers are homeschooling mothers and fathers members of our community from different walks of life who coincide in their commitment to the Catholic faith and their children's education.

Join us Saturday, February 3, 2024, in Jerabeck Center, at the University of Saint Thomas. Registration starts at 8:00 a.m. and Mass at 8:15 a.m. Talks will go from 9:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. and the vendors will close at 6:00 p.m.

If you are one of the first 100 to sign up, you will be invited to an exclusive Friday night networking event, with the speakers and other parents who share this journey with you.

The ticket price for the conference is $50, but if you attend with your spouse, it is $60 for both. Make it a date! This includes lunch, and the annual membership to CHECH, which is a $35 value.

Houston may be a large metropolis, but our Catholic family belongs together; let's take this chance to learn, share, and make lasting connections to support our home education efforts. We hope to see you then!
